

A Wet Fight
An Air Fleet's Work
Hang Him Twice
Rules for Girls
Current Events
—By Arthur Brisbane—

NEW YORK will enjoy a "wet" campaign for the Governorship, both Republican and Democratic candidates, Al Smith and Theodore Roosevelt, being on record in favor of beer as against absolute prohibition.

AMERICANS will watch with interest young Theodore the second, following in his father's footsteps. The original T. R. went to the New York Legislature, so did his son. The original T. R. ran for Governor and was elected. His son is now running for Governor. Whether he will be elected or not remains to be seen.

THE POSTOFFICE shows that by using connecting railroads the air mail service can save time and money to business men. The saving in time from New York West is six hours to Milwaukee, Minneapolis nine hours, St. Paul eleven hours, Denver twenty-three hours, Omaha, Utah, thirty-six hours, Los Angeles forty-one hours, Spokane thirteen hours, Seattle nineteen hours.

THE FLYING MAIL will undoubtedly save money and time for American business men. An adequate flying navy, useful in peace times, ready to fight in war, might easily save the country a hundred thousand millions of dollars and national humiliation by protecting our cities from enemy air fleets.

This country's business is the President of the United States. He will be blamed if a fighting fleet comes through the air and finds us unprepared.

SOMETHING NEW in murder is the light poisoning case, the eleganza in cold blood saying to a woman, "There's arsenic. I will poison my wife, and once more she will be married."

The prosecutor declares that in spite of his being a clergyman, an attempt will be made to hang Hight. If it were possible, he ought to be hanged twice, once for murdering the clergy and once more for murdering the clergy.

The woman, Mrs. Sweetin, will not be hanged, of course. She was the victim and once more for murdering the clergy.

LONG SLEEP, at least eight hours, no tobacco, only one cup of tea or coffee in the morning, seven hours of outdoor exercise weekly, such are rules for girl athletes in Boston University.

Why not for all girls? Every young woman is in training for a job more important than the 100-yard dash or the long jump. Long sleep, wise living, are important in winning races. They are ten times more important to food motherhood. And that is the young woman's chief duty of importance, whether she likes it or not.

officers and soldiers on the army boat behaved very well and added that there was no particular collision.

Among the passengers were Winthrop school children and women. Two civilians who took the trouble to visit the Boston American after the accident had a different version, and maintained that there was only one deckhand on the boat with the 150 passengers.

They said that there were not enough sailors on the Bachelier to launch a lifeboat, and that the boat was not launched until the fishermen climbed in from the wounded schooner and put it over the side to go to the aid of their fellows, struggling in the water.

GIVEN FIRST AID

Captain Bartholomew, a medical officer from the Thirteenth Infantry, gave first aid to Captain and Seaman Goodwin and the other man suffering from exposure as the Bachelier returned to Commerce Street Pier.

As the boat docked there was a line of ambulances in waiting. Captain Goodwin was still angry when he reached the Haymarket Hotel Hospital, to be treated for lacerations and immersion.

"We were proceeding to port," he said. "I saw the Bachelier off our starboard quarter. I was making three and one-half miles an hour. I signaled the army boat, with no result. She proceeded along the same course and I gave her more room. She kept on standard speed and left me in the starboard quarter."

CAPTAIN'S STORY

"I ordered seven of the crew over to the Bachelier, but Blake, Comiskey and myself stayed aboard to see what could be done.

"Our schooner sank under us. We were thrown into the water. In the absence of deckhands on the Bachelier, the fishermen's men went over from the deck to launch a lifeboat themselves and some to our rescue.

"When I got on the army boat I questioned the chief engineer. He said he was proceeding at normal speed. The attitude of some of those on the Bachelier was peculiar."

FATAL DUEL IN BOAT- RUNNING FOUGHT ON BOAT CAUGHT IN FOG RACE

Stewards on Steamer Batt After Card Game, One Losing Life

New York, Sept. 25.—Warren Blackman, a steward on the Eastern Steamship Company's liner Boston, was slain to death in a fatal duel on a card game in the crew's quarters of the vessel early today.

Anthony Blackman, the alleged murderer, was arrested by a squad of New York detectives when the liner reached its dock here.

A wireless message from the captain of the Boston brought news of the slaying and requested that police officers meet the boat at the pier.

Three Men and 2,400 Gallons of Alcohol Seized After Chase of an Hour

Quincy, after an hour's chase through the fog, the rum-runners launch Comet was brought to a halt about 10 miles from the pier of the customs cutter Despatcher. Twenty-four hundred gallons of Belgian stout, found piled high on the deck, were confiscated.

Three men who surrendered last night when the Comet was poked between the Customs and Merchants' Marine were arraigned before a United States commissioner later, charged with smuggling.

They said they were William Madison and Frankie Nolan of Boston and John Ryan of New York. Nolan was arrested some time ago after smuggling rum on the launch Star and paid a $1,000 fine.

When the fog began to drift in, Special Customs Agent Thomas Finnegan, watching that rum runners would consider the night ideal, took the Despatcher out to a skiffed position near Piney's Lodge, not far from the Graves Light.

Shortly before daylight the Comet went tearing by the customs boat at top speed, and the chase was on.

Into the upper harbor the rum runner came, without a halt or without paying the slightest heed to the challenges of Finnegan and his men.

The Comet nearly got away in the harbor, and it was the desire of the skipper to jockey her into a more favorable position that disclosed her whereabouts after the Despatcher had lost the scent.

Finnegan's men boarded her with revolvers drawn, but the crew made no resistance.

Police of Hartford Find Rum Cache Inside Clocks

Hartford, Ct., Sept. 25.—Two sham-faced clocks with hands every where found to be full of rum when police visited the home of Mrs. Mary Prandi in search of liquor.

Two bottles of bad rum were extracted from the interior of each gully clock.

Mrs. Prandi confessed that her husband had failed to support her and in dissuading rum she thought she was using her time to last advantage.

Judge Fay sentenced Mrs. Prandi to do time to the extent of 60 days, but suspended sentence with a warning not to further corrupt her once reliable clock.

TRAIL OF BANK THIEF LOST BY POLICE

Hanifan, of Union Trust, Last Seen at Hartford; Had $100,000 With Him

His arm and supposed somewhat exhausted.

The currency which Hanifan secured at the postoffice before he disappeared was wrapped in two packages.

SLEUTHS ON TRAIL

Hanifan is known to have paid a cash fare to New Haven, and it is believed he boarded the train. Springfield detectives, assisted by Pinkerton operatives, were today working in both Hartford and New Haven, as well as in New York.

Martin further said he had seen Hanifan the night previous in the company of strangers and apparently inconsiderable.

SEEN BY PLAINC

The first claim that the missing messenger had gone South came from Thomas H. Denton, Boston & Albany Railroad detective, who, like Martin, was a passenger with Hanifan and who knew him well.

Following the disappearance of the messenger the score of private detectives employed by the bank lending companies, together with the Springfield police authorities, were confident the messenger would make for the Canadian border at once.

While the alarm was sent to other sections of the country, the closest watch was maintained at points leading to the border.

SEARCH IN NEW HAVEN

Denton, the railroad detective, did not learn of the bank robbery until he read the evening newspapers. He at once got in touch with the authorities and a short time later

Demands Alimony

MRS. INA POTTER.

Chief Gully and the detectives left Springfield for New Haven. The train which Hanifan boarded leaves Springfield at 9:35 a. m. and the messenger apparently used a taxicab to get from the postoffice to the railroad station only a few minutes elapsed between the time he signed for the two registered packages at the postoffice and the time the train pulled out of the station.

The fugitive's trail, leading definitely to New Haven, has resulted in a thorough search of that city while all eyes to the south have been notified to be on the lookout for the man.

A petition signed by property owners objected to both projects.

SHY ALIMONY, PAYS $50 ON ACCOUNT

Husband Given Week's Time in Which to Dig Up $25 Balance

Mrs. Ina Potter of Chelsea is today $50 further along in the arduous business of collecting alimony instalments from her divorced husband, William I. Potter.

She had him up in Probate Court in an attempt to collect $75 back alimony. It having been several weeks since Potter had come across with the customary $25 bill.

Judge McCol ordered Potter to ante up this sum while Potter remained in the custody of a court officer.

The friend found $50 was the best he could round up, and Judge McCol decided to let it go at that, on the understanding he finish things up before October 2.

Mrs. Potter was granted her divorce on the grounds of cruel and abusive treatment. It was hotly contested by her husband, who brought an allegation of affection suit against her parents.

Mrs. Potter was finally granted $19 a week with her divorce, which was later made $15 and finally dropped to $5 when Potter took over the care of one of their two children.

RICH MOTHER KIDNAPS SON, RETURNS TO FIGHT—Last Day!

LURES BOY TO STREET, FLEES

Makes Mad Dash to Steamer and Gets Him Out of Bay State

Successfully executing a daring coup, Mrs. Lillian Evelyn Holden, owner of a fashionable modiste shop in New York, has regained possession of her eleven-year-old son after kidnapping him from his grandmother's home in Newton.

The mother is back in Boston preparing to battle her way through the courts to gain legal possession of the lad.

The mother, who was forced to turn the boy, Robert Kenneth Holden, over to her divorced husband's mother when she was penniless, is now prospering. The boy, she freely announces, is in New York and will remain there indefinitely.

The mother carried out her kidnapping plans with consummate care. The grandmother lives in Vernon court, an exclusive apartment hotel on Venter street, Newton, and the child lived there for the past two years.

Realizing that if she were caught within the borders of Massachusetts with the lad she could be returned to Boston, the mother lured the boy to the street, and placed him in a taxicab just a short time before the night boat to New York sailed. There was a mad dash to the wharf.

Mother and son climbed up the gangplank as the boat was ready to move away from the wharf, and a moment later she was safe, and maternal love had proven victorious.

Four years ago Mrs. Holden obtained a divorce from her husband and retained possession of her son, then seven years of age. For two years the mother struggled to maintain a home for herself and boy. Finally she was taken ill. Penitence and without friends, she was forced to turn the boy over to his grandmother while she went to New York to look for work.

The mother has prospered. She is the owner of an exclusive ladies' shop of Forty-sixth street, near Fifth avenue, New York. Her son, she says, will be kept in New York and educated there.

The father of the boy, however, will seek to recover possession of the boy through the courts. Already the mother has been summoned to the Middlesex district attorney's office at the behest of the father.

"I have been threatened with grand jury indictments," said Mrs. Holden, "but I will not give up my boy. They were turning him against me, and I determined to get him. I'll fight through every court before I give him up."

The boy's father is seeking to have the divorce decree of his former wife annulled. "He can indict me, but the boy stays in New York," is the final word of the mother.

SENTENCED FOR STEALING CASH TO GAMBLE

Lawrence, Sept. 25.—Herbert Phillips, 29 years old, of Haverhill, paid the price of gambling today when he was sentenced in Superior Court to five months in jail after pleading guilty to the larceny of $5,648 from the Haverhill Trust Co.

Phillips, who was highly respected in Haverhill, was employed as book-keeper at the bank.

He gambled extensively, and finally fell into a losing streak when it required more than his salary to retrieve himself.

He took the bank funds, juggling the books to delay discovery, in the hope that he could win the money back and return it.

When discovery seemed inevitable, he disappeared. He was traced to Philadelphia, where he was captured and returned.

He has a wife and two children.

RENOUNCES HER 'PERFECT LOVE' MINISTER

"I Never Want to See Him Again!" Says Mrs. Sweetin From Her Cell

Mrs. Sweetin, 33, Sept. 25 (L.N.S.)—The Rev. Mr. Elsie Sweetin, in jail in Marion County charged with murdering her husband, Wilford, in a jail cell with the Rev. Lawrence M. Light, was on a luncheon strike yesterday by Sheriff Vail.

The sheriff admitted, however, that Mrs. Sweetin had been in jail, but that she was in a terrible mental and physical condition.

Today Mrs. Sweetin renounced the all-consuming love which prompted her to administer arsenic to her husband, of Light, her "perfect love," she said.

"I never want to see that man again," she said. "I didn't want to kill Wilford. When Light first suggested it I said I wouldn't, but he kept after me, telling me to do it. I agreed for a month, but I soon I was in his power for anything he said. I thought I had to do it."

"It was hard to give Wilford poison. When he didn't die the first time I gave him the arsenic. I thought I was in his power for anything he said to give him some more."

"To get all the time my husband was lying in bed sick Light came with these awful notes urging me to give more arsenic. In Wilford's lifetime, I couldn't control myself."

TORONTO BANK MAN IS FOUND GUILTY

Toronto, Sept. 25.—Oscar G. Smith, former chief accountant of the defunct Home Bank of Canada, today was found guilty on the count of having stolen $100,000 in connection with filing returns to the government. Sentence was deferred for one week. This is the first verdict in the several charges to be tried against officers and directors of the Home Bank, which collapsed in 1913.

efforts and soldiers on the array boat behaved very well and added that there was no particular confusion.

Among the passengers were Winthrop school children and women. Two civilians who took the trouble to visit the Boston American after the accident had a different version, and maintained that there was only one dead on the boat with its 120 passengers.

They said that there were not enough swimmers on the Batcher to launch a lifeboat, and that the boat was not launched until the fishermen climbed in from the wounded schooner and put it over the side to go to the aid of their fellows, struggling in the water.

GIVEN FIRST AID.

Captain Bartholomew, a medical officer from the Thirteenth Infantry, gave first aid to Captain and Jeanman Goodwin and the other man suffering from exposure as the Batcher returned to Common wealth Pier.

As the boat docked there was a line of ambulances in waiting. Captain Goodwin was sent away when he reached the Haymarket Hotel Hospital, to be treated for lacerations and immersion.

"We were proceeding to port," he said. "I saw the Batcher off my starboard bow. I was making three and one-half miles an hour. I engaged the army boat, with no result. She proceeded along the same course and I changed my course to give her more room. She kept on at standard speed and hit me in the standard quarter."

CAPTAIN'S STORY.

"I ordered seven of the crew over to the Batcher, but Black, Commander and myself stayed aboard to see what could be done."

"Our schooner sank under us. We were thrown into the water. In the absence of deckhands on the Batcher, the fishermen who went over to launch a lifeboat themselves and come to our rescue.

"When I got on the army boat I questioned the chief engineer. He said he was proceeding at normal speed. The attitude of some of those on the Batcher was peculiar."

FATAL DUEL RUM-RUNNING BOAT CAUGHT IN FOG RACE

Stewards on Steamer Bait After Card Games, One Losing Life

New York, Sept. 25.—Warren Blackman, a steward on the Eastern Steamship Company's liner Bait, was slain to death in a fight after a card game in the crew's quarters of the vessel early today.

Archibald Blackman, the alleged murderer, was arrested by a squad of New York detectives when the liner reached its dock here.

A wireless message from the captain of the Bait brought news of the slaying and requested that police officers meet the boat at the pier.

Three Men and 2,400 Gallons of Alcohol Seized After Chase of an Hour

Quoted after an hour's chase through the fog, the rum-running launch Cormorant was brought to Long Wharf today as the prize of the customs officer Dr. Bremer.

Twenty-four hundred gallons of foreign alcohol, found stowed high on the deck, were confiscated.

Three men who surrendered tamely when the Cormorant was picked up by the Customs Service were arrested before a United States commissioner later, charged with smuggling.

Police of Hartford Find Rum Cache Inside Clocks

Hartford, Ct., Sept. 25.—Two champagne-fused clocks with hands away were found to be full as police visited the home of Mrs. Mary Prandi in search of liquor.

Two bottles of bad rum were extracted from the interior of each gaily clock.

Mrs. Prandi confessed that her husband had failed to support her and in dispensing rum she thought she was saving her time to best advantage.

Judge Ray sentenced Mrs. Prandi to do time to the extent of 60 days, but suspended sentence with a warning not to further corrupt her once reliable clocks.

TRAIL OF BANK THIEF LOST BY POLICE

His arm and appeared somewhat intoxicated.

The currency which Hanifan secured at the postoffice before he disappeared was wrapped in two packages.

SEETHING ON TRAIL.

Hanifan is known to have paid a cash fare to New Haven, and it is believed he reboarded the train.

Springfield detectives, assisted by Pinkerton operatives, were today working in both Hartford and New Haven, as well as in New York. Martin further said he had seen Hanifan the night previous in the company of strangers and appeared intoxicated.

The first clue that the missing messenger had gone South came from Thomas H. Denton, Boston, a former Hartford detective, who, like Hanifan, was a passenger with Hanifan and who knew him well.

Following the disappearance of the messenger the score of private detective employed by the bank holding companies, together with the Springfield police authorities were confident the messenger would make for the Canadian border at once. While the alarm was sent to other sections of the country, the closest watch was maintained at points leading to the border.

SEARCH IN NEW HAVEN.

Denton, the railroad detective, did not learn of the bank robbery until he read the evening newspapers. He at once got in touch with the authorities and a short time later

Demands Alimony

MRS. INA POTTER.

Chief Quilly and the detectives left Springfield for New Haven.

The train which Hanifan boarded leaves Springfield at 2:35 a. m., and the messenger apparently used a taxicab to get from the postoffice to the railroad station only a few minutes elapsed between the time he signed for the two registered packages at the postoffice and the time the train pulled out of the station.

The fugitive's trail, leading definitely to New Haven, has resulted in a thorough search of that city while all eyes to the south have been notified to be on the lookout for the man.

Mrs. Potter was granted her divorce on the grounds of cruel and abusive treatment. It was later made final and finally dropped to $5 when Potter took over the care of one of their two children.

RICH MOTHER KIDNAPS SON, RETURNS TO FIGHT

LURES BOY TO STREET, FLEES

Makes Mad Dash to Steamer and Gets Him Out of Bay State

Successfully executing a daring coup, Mrs. Lillian Evelyn Holden, owner of a fashionable modiste shop in New York, has regained possession of her eleven-year-old son after kidnapping him from his grandmother's home in Newton.

The mother is back in Boston preparing to battle her way through the courts to gain legal possession of the lad.

The mother, who was forced to turn the boy, Robert Kenneth Holden, over to her divorced husband's mother when she was penniless, is now prospering. The boy, she says by announcements, is in New York and will remain there indefinitely.

The mother carried out her kidnapping plan with consummate care. The grandmother lives in Vernon court, an exclusive apartment hotel on Venter street, Newton, and the child lived there for the past two years.

Realizing that if she were caught within the borders of Massachusetts with the lad she could be returned to Boston, the mother lured the boy to the street, and placed him in a taxicab just a short time before the night boat to New York sailed. There was a mad dash to the wharf. Mother and son climbed up the gangplank as the boat was ready to move away from the wharf, and a moment later she was safe, and maternal love had proven victorious.

Four years ago Mrs. Holden obtained a divorce from her husband and retained possession of her son, then seven years of age. For two years the mother struggled to maintain a home for herself and boy. Finally she was taken ill. Penniless and without friends, she was forced to turn the boy over to his grandmother while she went to New York to look for work. The mother has prospered. She is the owner of an exclusive ladies' shop of Forty-sixth street, near Fifth avenue, New York. Her son, she says, will be kept in New York and educated there.

The father of the boy, however, will seek to recover possession of the boy through the courts. Already the mother has been summoned to the Middlesex district justice's office at the behest of the father.

"I have been threatened with grand jury indictment," said Mrs. Holden, "but I will not give up my boy. They were turning him against me, and I determined to get him. I'll fight through every court before I give him up."

The boy's father is seeking to have the divorce decree of his former wife annulled. "They can indict me, but the boy stays in New York," is the final word of the mother.

RENOUNCES HER 'PERFECT LOVE' MINISTER

"I Never Want to See Him Again!" Says Mrs. Sweetin From Her Cell

Mr. Vernon, Ill., Sept. 25 (N.Y.K.)—Dead that Mrs. Elne Sweetin, in jail in Marion County charged with murdering her husband, Wilford, in 1918, with the Rev. Lawrence M. Light, was on a hunger strike was made today by Sheriff Vogt. The sheriff admitted, however, that Mrs. Sweetin had eaten but lightly. "She is weakened and in a terrible mental and physical condition," Vogt said. "She has not eaten any heavy food since she was brought here."

Today Mrs. Sweetin renounced the all-consuming love, which prompted her to assassinate alongside her husband, of Light, her "perfect love," who said:

"I never want to see that man again. He made me do it. I didn't want to kill Wilford. When Light first suggested it I said I wouldn't, but he kept after me, telling me to do it. I argued for a month, but I gave it up in the end for anything he said. I thought I had to do it."

It was hard to give Wilford poison. When he didn't die the first time I gave him the arsenic. Light came to the house. He handed me a paper and slipped me a note which said to give him some more.

In fact, all the time my husband was lying in bed sick, I came to these awful notes urging me to give more arsenic. In Wilford's words, 'I couldn't control myself.' TORONTO BANK MAN IS FOUND GUILTY

Toronto, Sept. 25.—Oscar G. Smith, former chief accountant of the defunct Home Bank of Canada, today was found guilty on the count charging negligence in connection with filing returns to the government. Sentence was deferred for one week. This is the first verdict in the several charges to be tried against officers and directors of the Home Bank, which collapsed in 1921.

1,000 STRIKING WATCHMAKERS GET NEW JOBS

Further Conferences on Wal- tham Troubles Reach No Decision

One thousand of the 2,800 striking employees of the Waltham Watch Company have obtained permanent employment in other cities, the strike committee of the Watchmakers' Perfecting Association announced today.

Commissioners Charles G. Wood and Anna Weinstein of the Federal Arbitration Board held further conferences today with representatives of the strikers and employers separately. A joint conference is planned.

The strike is in its eighth week, and up today has been marked by any disaster. This morning one of the 300 workers still employed was asked by a picket and grooved with him. They were separated by the police.

A meeting between representatives of the strikers and business men of Waltham will take place Tuesday afternoon, in an attempt to find a solution of the difficulties.

"PINKIE" MITCHELL'S CAR INJURES CHILD

Milwaukee, Sept. 25.—An automobile driven by Myron "Pinkie" Mitchell, junior, yesterday morning, struck Josephine Smith, aged six, causing concussion of the brain. Mitchell took the girl to a hospital. He was not held. She will recover, physicians say.

BANDITS GET THOUSANDS IN CHICAGO BANK HOLDUP

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Three bandits held up the West City Trust and Savings bank shortly before noon today and escaped with an undetermined amount of money, which officials said might run into the thousands.

SENTENCED FOR STEALING CASH TO GAMBLE

Lawrence, Sept. 25.—Herbert Phillips, 23 years old, of Havertill, paid the price of gambling today when he was sentenced in Superior court to five months in jail after pleading guilty to the larceny of $6,648 from the Havertill Trust Co.

Phillips, who was highly respected in Havertill, was employed as book-keeper at the bank. He gambled extensively, and finally fell into a losing streak when it required more than his salary to retrieve himself. He took the bank funds, juggling the books to delay discovery, in the hope that he could win the money back and return it.

When discovery seemed inevitable, he disappeared. He was traced to Philadelphia, where he was captured and returned.

He has a wife and two children. GOV. ROSS WEAK AFTER OPERATIONS

Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 25.—Gov. Elmer Ross of Wyoming, who underwent an operation yesterday here when an intestinal appendix was removed, was very weak today after having spent a night in hospital, attendants reported.

The end of the third day of the Boston American's Presidential straw poll has shown that the Republican candidate for President, Calvin Coolidge, has a good lead over the Democratic candidate, La Follette, in the American straw vote.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 25.—Thomas H. Marshall, wartime Vice-President of the United States, moved into a downtown law office. "I'm not going to resume the practice of law until I get a client," he said.

There are the total figures for the three days of voting:

Every effort was made, as on the previous days, to make the poll truly representative of the sentiment of Greater Boston. If one visited the Copley-Plaza Hotel, and another went to the Hotel Touraine, a third was quick to find his way into Waltham and pass black balls among employees of the Watch Company, who are out on strike.

HOTEL BALLOTS.

The two big hotels revealed only two persons who voted for the candidate of the third party. This was no more surprising than it was to find La Follette far ahead of Davis in Waltham, and actually leading Coolidge there.

The vote in South Boston which leads today's tally—and which shows but a single ballot for President Coolidge—was taken at the junction of Broadway and Dorchester street, Davis, 16; La Follette, 13; Coolidge, 1.

The "market district" vote was taken in the mall, amidst the stalls of Faneuil Hall. The marketmen are predominantly for "things as they are." Coolidge, 24; Davis, 7; La Follette, 6.

Police headquarters appear to be strong for the former Governor who presented the way for the poll's disapproval of today. The voters are divided by the reporter as "high officials." They line up for Coolidge two in one, with John W. Davis having but a single supporter among high voters.

The vote of the Waltham group returned was: La Follette, 17; Coolidge, 13; Davis, 6.

In the group of votes identified and children as well as those of civil officials.

Countless sentiment continued to be strongly for La Follette, 4; Davis, 11; the President, 27.

The voting item of the list is the most revealing. Modern Square cases twice as many votes against Mr. Coolidge as for his high hand, with 21; Coolidge, 11; La Follette, 13.

The score for the third day, by itself:

Chicago, Sept. 26 (Unitedwire)—The best vote taken by the Herald and Examiner in the city of Chicago, was President Coolidge in the lead with approximately 45 per cent. of the total vote; La Follette second with about 35 per cent., and Davis third with 20 per cent. The last ballot has been chiefly confined to Chicago, but is now being extended to cover six Central States.

About 4500 votes have been counted and more than 4500 remain to be counted.

Out of the 45,000 votes, Coolidge leads with 21,215; La Follette has 18,215; and Davis has 15,570.

The vote on the east in Chicago indicates that Coolidge is receiving more former Democratic votes for every four votes that he is able to keep out of the Harding landslide of four years ago. And for every five of the votes as obtained he is winning two more, other than minority voters, either from minority voters or from voters who do not record their previous affiliation.

At the same time, the poll reveals the interesting fact that in Chicago, Davis seems to be losing his strength from former Republicans.

Senator La Follette is obtaining about one-half of his vote in Chicago from former Republicans.

Three-fifths of the remainder of his strength comes from former Democrats and about one-fifth from other sources, chiefly Socialists.

EXPLODE SMITH MYTH, IS CRY OF ROOSEVELT

G. O. P. Nominee for N. Y. Governor Resigns as Assistant Secretary of the Navy

Washington, Sept. 26.—Theodore Roosevelt, nominated as the Republican nominee for Governor of New York, called on President Coolidge today and formally presented his resignation as Assistant Secretary of the Navy, which was accepted by the President.

Roosevelt, N. Y., Sept. 26 (U.S.A.)—"Explode the Smith myth."

This will be the battle cry of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Republican candidate for Governor, in the State campaign, according to the public leaders who were leaving here today for their homes.

Friends of Colonel Roosevelt predicted he would center his attack on Governor Smith and Tammany Hall.

The colonel will fire the opening gun of his campaign when he is notified of his nomination at his Oyster Bay home at 3 o'clock Wednesday.

With Colonel Roosevelt on one side and Governor Al Smith on the other, both regarded by their party as extraordinary campaigners, it is predicted here today the campaign will be one of the hottest the State has witnessed in years.

It is understood Roosevelt will resign as Assistant Secretary of the Navy today and immediately launch the campaign.

LOST SEAPLANE IS SAFE AT AIRPORT

Rumor Airmen Fell Into Sea Off Cohasset Proves Unfounded

After a fleet of motor boats and five seaplanes from the coast town at Cohasset had searched the waters off shore from Grant Rock to Marshfield, hunting for a seaplane, believed to have been lost, the searchers learned the "missing" plane was safe at the Boston airport.

Employees of the Black Rock House at North Cohasset were responsible for the machine's disappearance. When they saw Mark C. Hogue and Howard Crosby make a sharp descent in their "French Canuck," a biplane painted yellow, they believed the plane had fallen into the sea.

Instead, the airmen dropped to within a short distance of the water and then skimmed near the surface for several miles before rising into the air again.

Amphibians were called out and searchers were ready for the supposed victims of the crash; and the search continued for several hours until word was received from the Boston airport that the "French Canuck" had made a landing there and had never been in any danger.

BERLIN CHEERS ZR-8'S FLIGHT OVER CITY

Crowds Applaud From House-tops; Sirens Scream Welcome to Giant Dirigible

Berlin, Sept. 25 (U.P.).—Germany's greatest dirigible, the ZR-8, bearing the end of its farewell trip over the Fatherland before its delivery to America, in part payment of the penalties imposed by the Versailles Treaty, reached Berlin today.

The ZR-8 followed the Kaiser's London described a circle above the Imperial castle, headed toward Strassen and returned to describe a giant circle around the whole city. The big ship came so low in its flight over the city that windows shook from the vibration of its motors.

From windows of business buildings the city waved and cheered, while houses throughout the city waved German flags.

German Zepplins' Triumphal Flight, one headline read. The news following pointed out to all Germany the great achievement of the ZR-8 crew.

Ahead the Zepplin ZR-8, Sept. 24 (A. P. Wire).—The giant air craft arrived at 11:30 on Sept. 24, on which it is hoped will bring the triumphal procession for delivery to the United States navy, was early today starting the second north coast of Germany after crossing through the war cold night over the North and Baltic Seas.

Milford, Attleboro & Woonsocket Gets Permission From Judge Carroll

Another Massachusetts street railway prepared to take the count to-day with the decision by Judge Carroll of the Supreme Court giving permission to the Milford, Attleboro & Woonsocket line to cease operation permanently on October 2.

The road has been losing money at the rate of $1,000 a month, according to the report of Clark V. Wood, the receiver.

It was believed at first that the decision to continue the Interstate Consolidated Street Railway, which is a freight feeder for the other road, would make it possible to keep both lines going.

The Interstate withdrew its petition for permission to cease operation when the employees took a wage cut and the officials of Attleboro agreed to help financially.

Genuine French Unfinished Worsteds 14-16 oz. In $20.00 Weight Suit to Your Order Irrespective of size

MADE IN FRANCE

One of those trades that come in a lifetime dropped into my lap Friday last week. I buy twenty pieces Blue and Black Unfinished Worsteds, made in Elbeuf, France, absolutely all wool and guaranteed in every way for color and finish, soft lustrous unfinished fabrics. I can safely say that I don't believe another tailor in the country would make these suits to order under $75.00. I show these goods in the corner of my doorway, and to the old customer who has been measured in any of my stores in the past I would suggest sending 2c stamp for samples and self measurement blank. Whether you want this suit today or a month from today makes no difference. I consider it the best trade I have offered in twenty-five years. These goods are Fall weight and if you are 50 breast don't worry the price is just the same.
